Estes Park

July 1945

Advertisement: Come over the Trail Ridge Road to the Corner Cupboard at Grand Lake. [Illustration: Simple sketch, likely an intended reproduction, of the Corner Cupboard sign, to the left of the advertising copy. The sign is a wooden 2-D cutout in the shape of a short, stout teapot, whose spout points right, with the words "The Corner Cupboard" in cuneiform font clearly visible, followed by three lines of illegible text, although the complete message could be reconstituted from photographs of the actual sign. The teapot is suspended from a cross pole by two cords. The vertical pole planted heading groundward, what the cross pole attaches to far from its center of gravity, resembles a piece of young bamboo, but, no need to fear, because this recipe for immediate structural collapse is braced by a short diagonal connector at the crotch of the two poles. As an aside, I am struck by the fact that the front-cover advertisement on the Estes Park telephone book is for a business in Grand Lake.] Hotel rooms and lake shore cottages. The same good meals (approved by Duncan Hines). Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Rhone. Grand Lake Telephone #14

[Logo to left and right of advertisement: Classic Bell Telephone logo, a massive, solid bell inscribed with the words "Bell System", surrounded by a ring. The words "The Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Company" run around the circumference of the ring clockwise from the 9:00 to 3:00 position, and the words "American Telephone and Telegraph Company" run counterclockwise from the 8:45 to 2:15 position. The whole resembles a medal or coin that even the most primitive mint could manufacture.]

Out-of-town calls as easy as calling local numbers [Illustration: “Cameo” of a smiling Caucasian man, posed full face, on the right of the text, with short dark hair and dark suit holding a dark telephone up to his left ear with his left hand. The mouthpiece-receiver unit has no obvious connection to its base via a cord, making it one of the earliest wireless telephones. Toward the bottom left of this explanatory text is a similar “cameo” of a smiling woman, who looks frighteningly like the man, only with more feminine short wavy dark hair and a pearl necklace wound into three strands, as well as additional jewelry on her left wrist and hand, which similarly holds a “wireless” mouthpiece-receiver unit up to her left ear. Perhaps this is meant to represent a couple, talking to each other on the telephone, or demonstrating the proper way to smile and hold the telephone.] Nine out of ten long distance calls are completed while you hold the line. Tell the operator – 1. The city or town you want. 2. The out-of-town telephone number, if available, or the name under which it is listed. For example – “I am calling Omaha [Nebraska] – Walnut 3456.” (If you do not know the telephone number) “I am calling Omaha [Nebraska] – Anyone at Mr. J. Lowell’s residence, 34 Blank [obviously a placeholder for a real name] Street.” This is a station-to-station call, because you have not asked the operator to connect you with a particular person. When you want to talk with a particular person, simply tell the operator the town, telephone number, if available, and the name of the person desired. This is a person-to-person call.

Reversing charges – If you wish to reverse the charges on a call, tell the operator when you place the call. If it is a station-to-station call and the initial period rate is 20 cents, charges will be reversed at the station-to-station 25 cent rate, and if the initial period rate is less than 20 cents, reversal of charges is made at the corresponding person-to-person rate, otherwise, no additional charges apply.

Appointment calls – On person-to-person calls, the called person can be notified that you wish to talk at a definite time, convenient to you. No extra charge is made for this service.

Messenger calls – If the called person does not have telephone service, the telephone company will send a messenger. The rate for the call is the same as the person-to-person rate, plus the cost of sending the message.

General Information. Subhead: Service suggestions. After you place a call, be sure to allow what you consider a sufficient length of time to enable the called person to reach his telephone, before concluding there is no one there to answer. Answering your telephone promptly will secure you better service and avoid abandoned calls or other attempts to reach you. Time is saved by identifying yourself, your company, or your department immediately. Speak slowly, clearly, and directly into the telephone with your lips about one-half inch from the mouthpiece. Otherwise, you will not be heard distinctly. Be sure the receiver is properly restored at the close of a conversation. Otherwise, your line may be “out-of-order” when someone is trying to call you. Subhead: Service difficulties. Our every effort is devoted toward providing you with the best possible telephone service. We shall appreciate your cooperation in reporting promptly any service troubles or defective equipment, such as broken mouthpieces, frayed cords, or loose wiring. Repairs and replacements necessitated by ordinary usage or unavoidable accidents are made without charge. Subhead: Attachments to directories. To insure the usefulness of the directory, no attachment, holder, or auxiliary cover, except such as may be furnished by the company, shall be used in connection with any telephone directory furnished by the company. Subhead: Attachments to telephones. The equipment, apparatus, and lines furnished you have been designed to produce the best telephone results. No instrument, appliance, or device of any kind not furnished by the telephone company shall be attached to or in any way used in connection with such telephone equipment, apparatus, and lines. You are requested, therefore, not to use nor permit the use of such instruments, appliances, or devices. The telephone company reserves the right to remove such devices, when found, in order to protect the telephone service. Subhead: Advertising telephone numbers. Many subscribers find it convenient and profitable to use their telephone numbers on stationery and business cards, as well as in their advertising. We encourage this practice, but it should be understood that the assignment of the telephone number does not vest in the subscriber a property right thereto. We exert every effort to avoid changing telephone numbers, but the needs of the service occasionally compel us to do so. Obviously, when you display your telephone number, the value to you, and to the service as well, depends upon the number being carried correctly at all times. Therefore, in the event your number is changed, it is suggested that corrections be made as promptly as possible. Subhead: Identification of employees. All employees who are authorized to represent this company are provided with a photographic identification card. This card, which is properly countersigned, shows the employee's name, signature, and photograph. Subscribers are earnestly requested to refuse admittance to their premises to anyone who cannot furnish this means of identification. Subhead: How to send telegrams and cablegrams by telephone. To file a telegram, cablegram, or radiogram by telephone, follow the instructions given in this directory under the name of the Western Union Telegraph Company. Subhead: Improper language. Profane or obscene language over the company's wires is prohibited. Subscribers are responsible for the enforcement of this rule. Failure to observe this will constitute cause for discontinuing service. Subhead: Changes and errors in directories. No liability shall attach or be assumed by the company for any errors or omissions in the compiling, printing, or distributing of its directories. In order that the directory records may contain correct listings at all times, notification of changes or errors should be given at once at the business office of the company.
